TRANSFORMING WISDOM INTO IMPACT: THE N3XT APPROACH TO LEADERSHIP AND CHANGE

Creating sustainable change in organizations can be tough. Even if you have a lot of positional power, you actually can feel quite disempowered to make the change you want to see.

You might ask yourself: what does Leadership mean? How can I manage change in an ever changing world? What is a powerful place to start from? And how can I create beneficial and sustainable impact? How can I imagine a new future together with others? What are the key qualities I need to cultivate for leading complexity and working effectively with the unknown?

In this Workshop we will explore these questions and come up with a new approach how you can lead change in a powerful way. In order to create beneficial impact and sustainable change we need a transformation of our mind. We will shine the light on how Personal Mastery and Zen Wisdom open doors to a new understanding of Leadership and Change, leading to Business Excellence. We will work in a mix of Input and personal experience.

You can expect to walk away with an expanding understanding of your role and possibilities, and how you can get access to the best tool you have: your mind.
